WHO WE ARE

With more than a half-century of experience, DMW&H has honed a unique approach to automation solutions. We design, integrate, install, and support complex material handling systems that deliver complete, collaborative automation solutions to meet or exceed your fulfillment and distribution needs.

By choosing to partner with us, you'll have direct access not only to competitive services and pricing, but also to the industry's best talent, in a company with an exemplary reputation and a true passion for helping you overcome your business challenges and win in your marketplace.

Wine & Spirits

Helping You Be the Toast of the Town

DMW&H has been providing leading-edge, innovative material handling and WCS solutions for Wine & Spirits and beverages companies for more than 25 years. Today, we are an industry leader of the full range of fulfillment solutions from basic wave picking to complex sequencing release.

We start by evaluating where you are, where you are going, and what you need, including production capacity, quality and accuracy, capital equipment cost, labor cost, and, when you are planning a new facility, real estate cost. Then we consider how the latest innovations can optimize your operation's performance and cost. With our systems you will be able to raise a glass to high storage density, have strong overall production, and deliver high, sustained production rates.

DMW&H Connects You with Software & Integration

Shiraz Warehouse Control System – The Order Fulfillment Engine

The Shiraz Warehouse Control System (WCS) features proven industry functionality modules. Shiraz WCS easily integrates with enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems and warehouse management systems (WMS).It directs operations through smart wave picking and releasing for maximum efficiency through to shipping and manifesting; including label printing and optimization of labor tasks. Shiraz's flexible fulfillment capabilities can pick the full range of product movement and manages it all with the latest in visibility and graphics tools. Shiraz also drives advance technologies such as dispensers, shuttles, and enhanced palletizing stations; as well as integrates with various pallet ASRS systems.

Rely on DMW&H for Implementation & Support

As warehouse automation continues to become more application-driven and network-dependent, our Professional Services Group (PSG) has added strategic support services to help you manage these increasing complexities.

- Call our toll-free number to talk directly with an agent for immediate support.
- Talk with a Support Engineer at any time – no waiting for someone "on call" to respond.
- Be confident that our agents can help. They attend weekly training so they can efficiently troubleshoot even the most complex, tightly integrated systems.

We value your up-time as much as you do. We're committed to continuing to improve, and continuing to invest in both our technology and our customer support to meet – or exceed -- your expectations and help you keep your fulfillment and distribution operations running
